

DID YOU KNOW?

ROTORUA BATH HOUSE

ROTORUA museum

Te Whare Taonga o Te Arawa
ART | CULTURE | HERITAGE

Something that makes the Bath House stand out is the Elizabethan style in which it was built.

It also features a lot of wood and plaster decorations inside. One of them is this, called a ceiling rose (pictured).

While it decorates the room it also has a purpose, it's actually a vent for steam that came off the baths in the room below.

Have a go at colouring in this ceiling rose inspired by the ones in the Bath House. You may even like to have a go at designing your own.

